FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

RAILWORKS CORPORATION APPOINTS WILLIAM DORRIS
VICE PRESIDENT OF TRACK CONSTRUCTION DIVISION

Promotion Part of Broader Initiative To Position Company for Further Expansion

New York, NY - (July 16, 2009) – RailWorks Corporation, a leading provider of track and transit construction and maintenance services throughout North America, today named William Dorris vice president and area manager for the Greater Chicago area for its operating subsidiary RailWorks Track Services, Inc.

Dorris has successfully led projects of all sizes for Class I, government and transit agencies and private industry throughout his 32-year career in the railroad construction and maintenance industry. Under his leadership, RailWorks' Chicago-based track construction operations achieved revenue growth of more than 200 percent over the past several years.

In his new position, Dorris will expand his geographic base to include northern Indiana and Michigan, as well as the Chicago metro area. He also will lead the company's new project to construct the track infrastructure for Union Pacific's new intermodal yard in Joliet, Ill.

RailWorks Corporation Executive Vice President John August said Dorris' promotion is part of a broader, longer-term commitment by RailWorks to provide a comprehensive construction and maintenance service offering throughout the Midwest and Northeast.

“We recently expanded our offices in Minooka, Ill., constructed a new shop and office facility in Youngstown, Ohio, and established a satellite office in western Massachusetts,” said August. “These expansion activities and Bill's promotion reflect RailWorks Track Services' continued commitment to expand both its geography and its customer service capabilities.”
