Gordon Strilchuk Appointed Vice President of PNR RailWorks' Signals & Communications Division

New York, NY - (May 18, 2010) - RailWorks Corporation, a leading provider of track and transit systems construction and maintenance services throughout North America, announced today the promotion of Gordon Strilchuk to Vice President of Signals & Communications at its Canadian subsidiary PNR RailWorks Inc., Canada's largest railway contractor.

Strilchuk, who leads PNR RailWorks' Signals & Communication division, has more than 35 years of rail system signals and communications experience. He is based in Guelph, Ontario, and reports to Jamey Craig, president of PNR RailWorks.

After more than 30 years with Canadian National Railway, Strilchuk joined PNR RailWorks in 2004 to develop its signals and communications division. Under Strilchuk's leadership, PNR RailWorks has provided signal system construction and maintenance services for Canada's Class 1 and short line railroads as well as commuter and LRT transit systems. Recent installation projects include GO Transit's Bradford to Barrie commuter line and the Edmonton LRT expansion. PNR RailWorks also constructed the track infrastructure for both of these rail projects.

Craig acknowledged Strilchuk's vital role in expanding the company's capabilities. "Gord Strilchuk has established a highly capable signals and communications division with an impressive record of serving customers across Canada. PNR RailWorks is well prepared to support the planned upgrade and expansion of transit systems in the Greater Toronto Area."

Jeffrey M. Levy, president and CEO of RailWorks Corporation, noted that PNR RailWorks offers comprehensive track and systems to support its customer markets in the same way as RailWorks' operations in the United States.
