RAILWORKS CORPORATION ANNOUNCES EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS

New York, NY - (November 30, 2011) – RailWorks Corporation, a leading provider of track and transit systems construction and maintenance services throughout the United States and Canada, announced today three new appointments to its executive team. Benjamin Levy has joined RailWorks as executive vice president and general counsel. Robert Cummings has been appointed chief information officer. Dan Aghdam has joined RailWorks as vice president of corporate development.

Levy comes to RailWorks with an accomplished record of legal and management experience in transportation, business and finance. He has served as both outside and in-house counsel and held management positions in corporate and legal organizations. He most recently served as deputy general counsel for Maersk Inc., a U.S. subsidiary of A.P. Moller-Maersk A/S, a conglomerate whose activities include a variety of transportation-related businesses. In his new position, Levy is responsible for all legal matters for RailWorks Corporation and its subsidiaries.

In the new position of chief information officer, Cummings is responsible for all information technology and systems functions for RailWorks Corporation and its subsidiaries. He brings to RailWorks more than 30 years of experience employing information technology and systems to drive business process improvements. He previously served as project director of global enterprise resource planning implementation for publisher Harper Collins.

In the newly created role of vice president of corporate development, Aghdam is responsible for identifying and developing new markets, services and opportunities for potential alliances, mergers and acquisitions. He has 20 years of construction industry experience and most recently worked for Turner Construction, where he served as regional general manager for the Logistics Group.

“These new appointments come in response to RailWorks’ significant growth and expanded business needs,” said RailWorks President & CEO Jeffrey M. Levy. “The addition of Ben, Bob and Dan provides support for our operations and will allow us to continue to take advantage of new opportunities to serve our customers.”
